Indian Army TGC 142 Selection Process 2025

The selection process of the TGC 142 has mostly three stages i.e. Stage 1 Shortlisting, Stage 2 SSB Interview, and Medical Examination. The candidates have to first qualify for the cut-off of the shortlisting stage to get to Stage 2 and Stage 3 respectively. The major details related to all three stages can be found in the space below:

Shortlisting of Candidates

The initial stage of the selection process involves the shortlisting of candidates by the integrated HQ of the Ministry of Defence (MoD). This shortlisting is based on the academic performance of candidates, particularly the marks scored in the final year of their engineering degree. Only those candidates who meet the prescribed cut-off marks will be eligible to proceed to the next stages of the selection process. This step is crucial as it filters out candidates who are academically qualified for further rounds.

SSB Interview

The SSB (Services Selection Board) Interview is a comprehensive and crucial stage in the TGC 142 selection process, consisting of several sub-stages designed to assess various attributes of the candidates. It begins with screening, which includes an intelligence test and a Picture Perception & Discussion Test (PPDT), followed by the psychological test to evaluate mental agility and personality traits. The group testing officer tasks (GTO) involve outdoor group activities that test leadership and teamwork. This is followed by a personal interview, where the interviewing officer assesses the candidate's motivations and personal qualities. Finally, the conference brings all assessors together to review the candidate's overall performance and recommend their selection.

Medical Examination

The Medical Examination is the final stage of the selection process. It ensures that the candidate is physically fit to serve in the Indian Army. This examination is conducted by a team of Army doctors and includes various physical and medical tests to assess overall health, vision, hearing, and other vital parameters. Candidates who clear this stage are declared fit and move forward in the recruitment process.

Indian Army TGC 142 Eligibility 2025

The Indian Army TGC eligibility criteria play one of the important roles in deciding if a candidate who has applied for the Technical Graduate Course is fit for the role. The candidates can check out the eligibility details in the space below:

- Candidates must be within the age limit of 20 to 27 years.
- Candidate must have passed the Engineering degree in any of the courses mentioned in the official notification.
- Candidates are only required to have their heights equivalent to 157.5 cm.

Indian Army TGC 142 Exam Pattern 2025

The Indian Army TGC 142 Exam Pattern 2025 outlines the selection process for engineering graduates aspiring to become officers. It is divided into multiple stages to evaluate candidates comprehensively.

- The first stage is shortlisting, based on final year engineering marks.
- The second stage involves the SSB interview, which includes multiple assessments.
- The final stage is the medical examination, focusing on physical fitness and overall health.

Indian Army TGC 142 Syllabus 2025

The Indian Army TGC 142 Syllabus 2025 focuses on evaluating the technical knowledge of engineering graduates. It covers core engineering subjects relevant to the candidate's discipline, including mechanical, electrical, civil, electronics, and computer science. In addition to technical topics, the syllabus also assesses general awareness, reasoning, and mental ability, which are essential for performing duties as an officer. Candidates are also tested on their leadership skills, personality, and communication abilities through the SSB interview stage.
